Farm-to-Table Chef | Boarding House Manager

Deep Springs College, a unique educational institution in Eastern California's high desert, is seeking a Farm-to-Table Chef to be our next Boarding House Manager. The Board House Manager is primarily responsible for managing the operation of our dining facility and culinary program. This position is ideal for an individual with general culinary skills and training, a commitment to service-oriented leadership, and an aptitude for working closely with young adults in an educational setting.

The total population of Deep Springs College ranges from approximately 30 people (May to August) and 45 people (September to April).

Job Summary

The Boarding House Manager, plays an instrumental role in maintaining the nourishing, educational, and communal environment that is central to life at Deep Springs College. They run our brand-new, 6000 sq. ft. Boarding House (a kitchen and dining facility completed in May 2023), oversee the provision of three healthy meals a day to our community, and source produce, meat, eggs, and milk from our college's own farm, garden, and ranch as well as other outside sources.

Using our restaurant-quality kitchen, the Boarding House Manager prepares lunch on weekdays and coordinates with 2 Student Cooks to provide breakfast and dinner on weekdays and 2 meals on weekends. The Boarding House Manager also oversees a 3-4 person student crew responsible for dishes and the daily upkeep of the boarding house.

Working in this role, the Boarding House Manager engages with our student body, promoting an atmosphere of learning, growth, and mutual respect. They act as a supervisor, teacher, and mentor who guides students in the culinary arts and fosters a deeper appreciation for sustainable farming practices. They carry out the following responsibilities, with the help of student labor:

Key Responsibilities

- Creative Culinary Leadership and Education: Envision, create, and execute nutritious meals incorporating ingredients sourced from our college's integrated cattle ranch which includes our 2-acre organic garden, large orchard, laying hens, meat hens, and pigs.

Founded 1917

- Restore the traditional Deep Springs Butcher Program: In conjunction with the Student Labor Commissioner and the Ranch Manager, restore the traditional Deep Springs Butcher program (beef, chicken, and pork) in our new food processing facility.
- Farm-to-Table Cuisine: Embrace a farm-to-table ethos, working closely with our Garden, Ranch, and Farm Managers to utilize our seasonal bounty of produce, eggs, meat, and milk.
- Boarding House Operations: Ensure the smooth operation of our dining facility, including adherence to health and safety standards, maintenance, delivery and sourcing of additional ingredients, budget management, and facilitation of special college events.

The Boarding House Manager, like all staff positions at Deep Springs College, may be required to spend some of their working time joining on a governance committee for the college, e.g. the applications committee. They may also have the opportunity, should they so choose, to offer an independent study or small class for students on culinary skills beyond the regular supervision and instruction of student laborers.

Qualifications

- Demonstrated leadership in a kitchen or dining service environment.
- Experience and passion for farm-to-table cuisine.
- An excellent demeanor to train, manage, collaborate, and inspire students in the culinary arts.
- Excellent time-management skills and flexibility with working hours.
- Knowledge of budget management and inventory control.
- Familiarity with commercial health and safety regulations in a dining service context.
- Excitement for living in and cooking for a small, close-knit community.

Deep Springs values diversity and encourages individuals with various experiences and backgrounds to apply.

Working at Deep Springs College offers rewarding experiences beyond the scope of individual roles. Staff members not only manage their respective responsibilities but also interact closely with students, providing guidance in their studies, work, and communal decision-making. Staff also set high behavioral and communicative standards, participate in campus events, and collaborate on problem-solving and improvements across the college. This unique, intimate setting is often considered a rare privilege and enriching aspect of a Deep Springs professional life.
